

2019 BIG POUR

The first offering from 2019 Napa Valley vintage has big volume, big bold fruit, and very big structure. Crafted from our storied canyon slopes, it's luscious, rich, dense, yet refined... a synergy of opulent fruit and structure swirled with complex and intense aromas. You will truly desire a big pour of this big beauty...

Our organically grown Cabernet Sauvignon from the Kelly Fleming estate is complemented by Malbec from Sage Creek Vineyard in Chiles Valley. The final blend is 81% Cabernet Sauvignon, 19% Malbec.

TASTING NOTES: The 2019 Big Pour Cabernet is alluring on the nose, brimming with heady notes of creme de cassis, dark black cherry, baking spices and cigar box. On the palate there's a lush and opulent character, characteristic of the mostly mild 2019 growing season, that offered both generous quality and yields. The smooth and succulent palate is framed by rich, velvety tannins. Powerful flavors of plum, red cherry and bright cranberry are studded with hints of graphite, dark chocolate and wild bay. This match between concentrated red fruits and smooth tannins yields a wine with delicious balance and grace.
